Tasting notes

Pale yellow, clean and bright, with an almost translucent appearance.
The nose is cool and restrained, marked by aromas of white-fleshed fruit, with notes of Williams pear, flat peach and cherimoya, accompanied by delicate citrus. As it evolves in the glass, deeper layers emerge revealing wet stone and chalk, together with subtle notes of marzipan and baked apple. The aromatic profile is completed by a subtle background of sea breeze and sea spray.
On the palate, it shows a tense, vertical entry, supported by a firm, piercing acidity that lends structure and extends its progression. It displays pronounced nerve, with depth and a distinct saline character.
The finish is long, fresh and sapid.
